This story starts 2 years ago. Two girls called Lala and Riri are friends. Lala is gentle and loving. She is very friendly to other bears no matter what they look like. She always try to do good to others and she always come up with brilliant ideas. Riri is also gentle and loving. She is always happy and jolly. She is wise and can easily think of very clever ideas.

The two friends were playing in Riri's home . Lala said " oh, I can hear the chicken talking". "I can smell sweet honey from the honeycomb". "I really feel good now".

Lala and Riri love each other so much. Riri said "let's play a game". Lala said "jump, jump ! if I'm your friend. Riri jumped and said I love you to Lala then they played with some toys. They love playing with each other so much not until one day they had difficulty playing with each other. They both wanted to play with the same toy. They saw a toy rabbit. Riri found the rabbit toy first. They both said " this is my toy. " They got angry at each other. They started fighting. They pulled the rabbit toy. Lala made a face at Riri and left. The Rabbit toy is just a toy but it has batteries so it can move. They both run to get it. Lala can run faster so she got the rabbit toy. All of a sudden the rabbit toy bite Lala's hand and told her to go away. The two friends were really surprised at what the rabbit said but most of all Riri comforted Lala and then she said sorry. Lala said sorry too. They hugged each other and laughed and made a promise never to fight again.
